COIMBRA

Coimbra is a very beautiful and peaceful town situated by the Mondego River, approximately 185 km Northeast of Lisbon, 98 km Southeast of Oporto. Coimbra is only 27 km away from Montemor-o-Velho.

The climate is mild and the rainfall averages 750 mm annually. The town is very well served of public transports and is easily accessible both by bus or fast trains either from Lisbon or Oporto. Coimbra's industry is not very strong, but both the commerce and the sector of services (specially the later) are very important and famous by their very high quality standards.

The District of Coimbra has an area of about 3,956 km². Roughly oblong-shaped, it extends inland from the Atlantic Ocean halfway across the country. The western sector in the lower Mondego Valley is low and rolling country, but in the southeastern part, in the Serras da Lousã and Estrela, it rises to more than 1,200 m.

Coimbra was once the nation's capital city during the middle ages, however, today it is well known for being a vibrant and cultural place to visit. The oldest university in Europe is situated in this amazing city and attracts a huge number of visitors from all over the world. Although the larger cities are often chosen over Coimbra, this remains a fantastic jewel in Portugal's crown.

The University of Coimbra is one of the biggest tourist attractions in the city, as well as being a fantastic place of learning. This incredible institution was built in 1290 and is not only the oldest university in Europe, but also the largest in Portugal. There are over 20,000 students who attend this university from all over the world. This makes Coimbra very cosmopolitan and cultural as the students venture out to explore.

Coimbra is well known for the fiestas that it holds within the city, especially the fantastic academic festivities that take place twice a year. The home coming parade, which takes place, at the beginning of the academic year is incredible, and worth being a part of. As the streets fill with the students, their friends and family the party begins. As with many of the fiestas in Europe the party atmosphere is electric, and continues like that into the early hours.

The parks in Coimbra are stunning and allow you to take some time away from the hustle of the city, enjoying the peace and quiet. There are several different green areas to choose throughout the city, including parks, play grounds and forest areas. The famous Botanical Gardens are incredible and well worth a visit while you are in the city. Founded in 1772, they are the fifth oldest Botanical Gardens in the world.

Back in the city, there is still plenty to explore around, and you will never get tired of the fascinating buildings of Coimbra. There are several different museums on offer, including the city museum and the Museo Nacional Machado de Castro. This famous museum is named after the sculptor Joachim Machado de Castro and is regarded as the most important museum in Portugal. Although the exhibits inside the museums are incredible, the buildings themselves are stunning to visit.

Wandering through the winding streets it is very easy to spend hours simply exploring the city and all it has to offer. With numerous side street cafes to sit and drink your coffee whilst watching the world go by. The city has a very Gothic feel to it and is often referred to as a deep and meaningful place of discovery. The city is an excellent base for exploring further afield, and there are many different organized tours for you to join.

Although Coimbra has a large population and is a vibrant city to spend time within, there is a feeling of relaxation throughout.

WEATHER

Portugal is known for its hot and dry weather in the summer, especially in the month of August, with temperatures that can reach 40°C during the hottest days.

Being Coimbra not far from the ocean, the high temperatures are normally accompanied by a cool breeze during this season.

During the event and being already the last days of August we expect temperatures not to go above 30°C during the peak of each day, around 12:00.

Some wind in the river can be felt during the afternoons.

HOW TO GET TO COIMBRA

Coimbra is reachable from the north and south of the country by car, train or bus, from major cities like Oporto or Lisbon. By car you should take the A1 Highway until km 200 and take the exit Coimbra North and then follow the city center signs. For the train the best affordable and convenient service, please use Coimbra B station, around 3,5km walking distance from the venue. Bus stop is slightly closer to the venue.

AIRPORTS

Getting here by air. Portugal has two major International Airports

Oporto airport: The Francisco Sá Carneiro Airport is located in the heart of the industrial north of the country, 11km from the city of Oporto, making it a privileged access point to this valuable commercial area.

It is less than 150km away from the Venue in Coimbra. The travel time by bus is around 1 hour and 30 minutes.

The Lisbon Airport, providing service to the capital of Portugal, is the busiest and most important airport in the country and the principal point of entry for travellers arriving in Portugal. There is a connection to the city centre and interface with Railway Stations by aero shuttle and bus.

The train also connects Lisbon to Coimbra. Both airports receive daily flights from low cost companies like Ryanair and Easyjet, among others, from all over European cities.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

With the task of hosting, for the first time in more than 20 years, an international Canoe Polo event, the Portuguese Canoe Federation had to create a new structure to be able to fulfill the demanding year that we are going to have in 2019.

Along with a new structure based on the previous experience on international organizations held by us, decided to implement new departments, with the goal of increase the level of communication, not only internally but mostly with the NF's, so we now provide a Teams management department.

This will allow us to not only to have quicker answers to all of you but also to create a different and more personal relationship with all NF' s headquarters in daily bases. The goal is to leave the Accommodation and the Transportation department with more time to work on their matters and provide new staff to receive all NF' S inputs.

The Organizing Committee is headed by members of the Portuguese Canoe Federation with support from the Sports Department of the University of Coimbra and with City Hall key personnel.
